Saw an interesting picture the other day. It was drawn by a computer. Cameron's James Brock may not appreciate art being reduced to a numbers game.

Another "week", Texas Public Schools Week, is forthcoming.

March 1-5 cites the annual recognition of Texas schools, more and more the battleground for better instruction, curriculum, support and counsel to the young.

Cameron Schools have made considerable strides toward the modern era. And other systems in the Milam area are involved in major change.

Rosebud-Lott has let bids to build a new junior-senior high at Travis. Caldwell has voted a bond issue to rebuild and improve their system in Burleson County. Rogers is undergoing a tax evaluation program at the moment. Only a Milam School Board decision would transfer a section of the Milano District to CISD after petitioners received approval of the Cameron board for annexation.

Midst this atmosphere, the 1971 Texas Public Schools Week is of particular interest in the Milam area. It would seem every system is modifying and modernizing in size, direction of quality.

It is a good thing. Milam area students in whatever phase of training they enter in the public schools and whatever phase they continue upon graduation deserve the best we can deliver.

111-111-111

As Folk Fete dance groups continue travels to numerous appearances in Texas, Cameron and the Milam area should appreciate the major contribution these volunteers are making toward a smashing community production. It is one that Central Texas television and magazines around the country are taking an interest in.

We have unique background as a people. We are ahead of what NEWSWEEK during the pst few months noted was happening to politics in populous areas of the Midwest and Northeast. Ethnic group interest is developing in politics.

Folk Fete is anything but political. It is cultural. It is fun. And it is growing because it is timely recognition of "people strength", of where they came from and what customs they brought with them and how they can adapt these strengths into the stream of development which is Milam County, present and future.

These volunteer dance groups are good, or they wouldn't be invited so many places so many times. And this is contributing to a modern image of progress, cohesion and growth, the attributes any community in this day is lucky to know.

UR Board Meets With Engineers

Cameron's Urban Renewal committee is meeting with representatives of Bernard Johnson Engineers, of Houston, tonight (Wednesday) to continue plans for carrying out the city's now-approved renewal project.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development notified local urban renewal officials of approval for the downtown project on February 3, and confirmed a federal grant and loan totaling $776,885.

The local Urban Renewal Board includes A. W. McCullin, chairman; Miss Mildred Thornton, Porter Young, Bill Burns, James Camp, Albert Hajovsky, and Dr. George Bowman.

Final appraisal of property designated for urban renewal development and formal signing of the contract with HUD is expected shortly.

McCullin plans to present a complete report of project status at the March 9 Chamber of Commerce banquet.

Interest High In Housing Loans, Says FHA Officer

About 43 people met with Farmers Home Administration representatives last week to hear details of the available FHA rural housing loans, according to Henry Ivey, Milam County supervisor.

Interest in the loan program is high, Ivey reported, and applications are "coming in a good stream."

Residents of Cameron are now eligible to apply for housing loans through the FHA program. Ivey said applications have already been received for both new housing and improvement of present housing.

He also reported that his office has issued the first commitment to a local builder for construction of a house on a speculative basis.

The county FHA committee will meet next week and will approve some of the loan applications, Ivey said.

The meeting last week was sponsored by the Cameron Welfare Council.

CofC Banquet To Host East Texas Speaker

Carl Cooper, assistant general manager of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, will be guest speaker at Cameron's annual Chamber of Commerce banquet on Tuesday, March 9.

Tickets for the banquet are now on sale.

Cooper's presentations "are a challenge to all Americans and spiced with humorous stories," a Chamber spokesman said, "his ability to entertain while inspiring is particularly appreciated by his listeners."

New officers and directors will be introduced at the banquet and the winner of the McCullin Civic Award for 1970 will be announced and presented.

Prior to the banquet at Methodist Fellowship Hall, a reception will be held in the Chamber offices from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m., giving local businessmen and their wives an opportunity to visit informally without of town guests.

Hostess for the reception will be Mrs. Robert Ellett, wife of the 1971 Chamber president.

Tickets may be purchased from these chamber members: Forrest Sapp, ticket committee chairman; Bob Ellett, Monroe Fuchs, Narvie Caperton, Jimmy Bledsoe, LaVert McKinney, Gene Smitherman, Jim Camp, and Porter Young. Tickets are also available at the Chamber office.

Cooper has been with the East Texas chamber for the past 20 years. He handles state and national legislative information for the regional chamber.

He is a Knife and Fork Speaker, and a member of the International Platform Association.

Cooper is an honorary lifetime member of the East Texas delegation in the Texas House of Representatives and the Texas Senate, and has been cited in a resolution passed by members of the Texas House of Representatives for his service to Legislators and East Texas businessmen.

He has been on the East Texas Chamber's industrial tours to the midwestern states, eastern states and the west coast, where businessmen spent a week "selling" East Texas. He has also traveled to South America with a group of students on the East Texas Chamber of Commerce "Junior Ambassadors Tour."

A native Texan, Cooper served with the 9th Air Force in World War II, is married and has three boys.

Salvation Army Seeks Donations For Fire Victims

The local Salvation Army unit is seeking donations of bedding, clothes, and household furnishings for three families whose homes were lost in recent fires.

Forrest Sapp, local unit chairman, said two families at Branchville and one in Cameron lost everything in fires within the last two weeks.

Persons wishing to donate blankets, quilts, other bedding, or any furnishings and clothes may turn them in to Sapp at his home, 1005 East 14 1/2 St., or to Mrs. Mildred Miller at the Welfare Office, now located on West 6th across from the new community center building.

City Police Report 2—Car Accident, Tower Climbers

A two-car accident Sunday morning resulted in damage to vehicles, a fence and a garage, according to Cameron police reports.

The accident occurred at the intersection of US 190 and North Bowie at 11:53 a.m. Drivers of the vehicles involved were listed as Will Ondrej and Mrs. Seraphine W. Sefcik, both of Cameron.

In an attempt to avoid the collision, Mrs. Sefcik's car left the roadway and struck a fence and garage at 306 N. Bowie, and a car parked in the driveway belonging to Anton L. Kopriva.

Mrs. Sefcik was taken to a Rosebud hospital where she was treated for minor injuries and released.

In other police reports, three juveniles were turned over to county juvenile authorities after police found them on the city water tower near the cotton compress building Saturday night.

Other police arrests included seven drunks, and five for driving while intoxicated which were transferred to county authorities.

Record Low Rainfall For Winter Months

Spotty rains appeared to be ending the worst four month winter drouth on record in the Central Texas area and some farmers are planning to start planting grain in the next two weeks.

Scattered rains over the weekend were measured at 2 inches in the Ben Arnold and Burlington areas, about 1 inch at Yarrellton, Buckholts and Sharp and less than an inch in the Cameron area. But high dry winds following the rains early Sunday countered the effect of some of the moisture.

A total .89 of an inch of rain recorded in Cameron for February followed a month without any measurable moisture and brought the four month winter rainfall total to 1.93, a record low.

County Agent J. D. Moore said there had been some talk of dry planting in Milam County, but he said they were still hoping for enough rain in the next week to make this unnecessary.

"Dry planting is a little dangerous," Moore said, "because with these light showers there might be enough moisture in the ground to make the seed sprout and then limited moisture would not sustain it."

Although the rain picture is serious, it has brought some lighter sides. In Quanah, west Texas, where less than a half inch of rain has been recorded since November 1, some local weather watchers decided to try a rainmaking brew last week.

The 'brew' composed of coyote eyelashes, horned toad's teeth and assorted other things, was set bubbling near the statue of an Indian on the courthouse square and much to the surprise of the 'rainmakers', clouds began to form. About an hour after the brew started boiling the area was drenched by a brief quarter-inch rainfall.

Reason For FFA Week...

It is a pleasure to pay tribute to the youth of this area who are active in Future Farmers of America during FFA Week, Feb. 21-28.

These young men are receiving valuable discipline in a segment of the nation's life which is vastly changed from 10 years ago and still headed for greater change.

The youth of the farm and small town have advantages, when coupled with modern education, which their counterparts in the city find hard to match.

Not too many years ago, it was found that about 70 percent of executive leadership in this country came from small towns or rural areas. These areas are the ones served by organizations like FFA and discipline individual abilities to assume responsibility and willingness to apply knowledge to the test of doing something.

The city youngster is, by necessity, confined in his outward development by the inward advantages of a metropolitan culture. And it is good to know more of finer things.

But it is also good and necessary to have young men who know and work for some end, somewhat less sophisticated, but able in their fields.

The time is here when young men, wherever they live, will be better if they know of the rigors of rural responsibility and the advantages of the city. Call it modern self development, if you like.

But call some of the essentials of the modern young man and modern leader the qualities developed in agriculture-related training.

FFA is the first to know of the enormous change in agriculture. Its membership is up on things. The direction of other youth groups like 4-H has changed enormously in the past 10 years.

But the ingredients of personal development, whether city, small town or farm, are brought out in FFA work, reason enough for FFA Week to be cited.

Hearing From Nader...

We note the "consumer's consumer," Ralph Nader, talked to Baylor University students recently and gave a new definition of patriotism.

To quote: "We need a new definition of patriotism. A patriot is a person who changes slums, a person who develops a kind of system that makes improvements."

And he says: "We must realize that this country has more pioneering to do than it has ever done before."

Nader is right. He attacks indifference as he attacks those things which wrack us from within, certainly as dangerous as any external problem.

In Milam County, and on balance, we are seeing some application of Nader's advice to Baylor students. And it is changing for the better those things which seemed irreparable.

"We don't look at citizenship as a profession," Nader says "We need supercitizens."

He says disobedience and unenforced laws are the cause of mass violence.

Nader puts out a big challenge. Are we patriots and citizens enough to respond?

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

DEFENDS SENIORITY SYSTEM

REP. O.C. FISHER (Texas) ". . .Much is being said and written on committees as a basis for selection of committee chairmen. This concern is coming from various sources. There are those who are captivated by the expression: "Merit should come ahead of age." Others, like such politically oriented organizations as COMMON CAUSE and AMERICANS FOR DEMOCRATIC ACTION are apostles of change, with little thought given to what the change would amount to. Still others suffer from ideological disenchantment. Then, there are the disgruntled who are always against those in authority--regardless of age..

"Anyone who is familiar with Congress, and has sense enough to get in out of the rain, knows there is no magic in age. We all know there are many who are relatively incompetent who are on the younger side. And we see a few in that category who are older.

"It stands to reason that any person who is endowed with reasonable intelligence become more competent as a result of experience. And that is what seniority means. Not only does it signify experience, but a Congressman must, along with that, be subjected to rigorous tests at the polls every 2 years. If there were very much wrong with him, the folks at home would find it out and he would be thrown out of office. Our political screening process is very cleansing, as it should be. . .

"There are those who would choose chairmen by majority vote of committee members every 2 years. That is the most common proposal. Yet, it is replete with weakness. To put committee chairmenship up for grabs would insure chaos. It invites logrolling and deals. It would breed dissent and interminable confusion. Ambitious Members would spend much of their time lining up votes for the next election of a chairman. All sorts of promises and commitments would be in order. Troublemakers would have a field day.

"On the other hand, a man chosen by seniority is indebted to no one for his position. He is a free agent, obligated to no one except the electorate and the House of Representatives. That adds to his effectiveness and capacity for leadership. While, being human, he may make mistakes, it is obvious he will make fewer mistakes than would those chosen in other ways. . .

"Young men have performed miracles. They have walked on the moon. . .When he drafted the Declaration of Independence, Thomas Jefferson was only 33. And Benjamin Franklin was 80 when he performed so brilliantly at the Constitutional Convention. . . Proving there is no magic in age. . .

"Let us not be guided by emotionalism in dealing with this subject of seniority. Let us proceed with reason and caution. There is so much at stake. . ."

Smith Proposes Boost In Sales Tax, College Tuition

By Vern Sanford

Gov. Preston Smith placed a new $470 million revenue - raising program before the Legislature, and prompt action toward consideration in the House was promised by Speaker Gus Mutscher.

Governor Proposed raising the general sales and auto sales tax rates to four per cent and boosting tuitions in state supported colleges and universities.

He stuck by his original recommendation to appropriate welfare funds for only 10 months of the biennium, meanwhile trusting that the federal government will take over 100 per cent of welfare costs. Latter assumes a shift of the nearly $300 million state load to Washington.

Smith, addressing a joint session of the House and Senate, served notice he is again insisting on a biennial (two-year) budget -- except for welfare -- and hinted strongly he would veto a one-year appropriations bill favored by Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, as he did in 1969.

Here's how Smith calculates the yield on his revenue plan which replaces the spend-now-pay - later scheme he outlined January 20:

* Boosting general sales tax rate from 3.25 per cent to four per cent, $300 million for the biennium.

* Raising auto sales tax rate from three to four per cent, for a $70 million gain.

* Hiking Texas student tuitions from $50 to $125 a semester and out-of-state-student fees in state institutions of higher education from $200 to $500 a semester, estimated to yield another $100 million.

While lawmakers found the new plan more realistic than the no-new-tax message, many expressed the view it would not pass unless coupled with some form of business taxation. Some legislators labeled it insufficient to meet budget needs. Most criticism centered on "lack of balance" between consumer - business levies and the stiff tuition increase recommendation.

EMERGENCY BILLS

Legislature completed action on emergency bills to avert the threatended March 1 cut in medical assistance and aid to needy families with dependent childrer

Final bill cleared by the House and sent to the Governor would divert $35 million of teacher retirement fund income from April through August. An earlier bill made the appropriation to welfare purposes.

Surprisingly, a bill to create a $185 million bond fund for building new colleges and universities, which sailed through House and has backing of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor, bogged down in senate committee. Measure now is in subcommittee, but Lieutenant Governor Barnes still predicts passage.

LIQUOR BILL EMERGES

Long - awaited bill to legalize sale of liquor-by-the-drink on a local option basis was introduced in the Senate by Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso and in the House by Rep. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi.

Legislature was empowered to pass such an act by the constitutional amendment lifting the open saloons ban at last November's general election.

Christie said the bill is "clean, enforceable" and contains no "arbitrary, unreasonable and indefensible restrictions" such as limiting mixed drink sales to establishments selling food.

Initial permit fees would cost $5,000 and annual renewals $500. Hale will introduce later tax legislation calling for a 10 per cent gross receipts levy on sale and service of mixed beverages.

Tax bill also would increase gallonage tax on distilled spirits from $1.68 to $2.70 and up wine tax per gallon in accord with the alcoholic content of vinous liquor.

Bill will further exempt mixed beverage permit holders and private clubs from the general sales tax and repeal the private club service fee of five cents a drink. Hale and Christie estimate a biennial additional tax revenue of $28 million.

Miniature bottles, subject of contention in prior legislative clashes over mixed drinks, would be banned. Mixed drink sellers would buy their stock from Texas wholesalers.

Legislation is expected to stir one of the sessions "more spirited" debates.

COURTS SPEAK

State Supreme Court agreed to consider a court of civil appeals decision concerning the city of San Antonio's annexation of five miles of U.S. Highway 281 right-of-way.

High Court reveresed an intermediate court and withdrew an earlier opinion, concluding that a home for retired teachers in Waco must pay property taxes to the city and school district.

A Dallas woman got a new hearing in a court of civil appeals in her lawsuit against a Connecticut life insurance company over $20,000 in coverage on her late husband. Supreme Court sent the case back for consideration of whether death was accidental or self-inflicted.

U. S. Supreme Court upheld the tough state rule on private club operations.

Federal district court here banned the use of federal funds to buy Mustang Island park land. Appeal is being filed.

Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed a 65-year prison sentence assessed a man in the shooting of the Cross Plains city marshall.

APPOINTMENTS

Governor Smith named Charles E. Simons of Dallas, executive vice-president of Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association to the State Highway Commission.

In other recent action, Smith also appointed:

Emory E. Gose Jr. of Houston to the Texas Aeronautics Commission and reappointed Rex C. Cauble of Denton.

Former State Sen. Walter H. Richter of Austin (formerly of Gonzales) director of the state drug abuse control program.

Irving M. Axelrod of Houston to the State Commission for the Blind and reappointed Thurman Dobbins of Austin to the Comission.

Dr. John Berry Bowen of Sweetwater as a member of the Texas Optometry Board and reappointed Dr. N. Jay Rogers of Beaumont to the Board.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editar:

It doesn't make any difference what newspaper turns up out here, every one of them will have an article or two about the dire necessity of finding a new source of tax revenue.

All levels of government are desperate for new tax money, cities, towns, counties, states, Washington. State governments alone right now are hunting ways to raise over six billion dollars in new revenue. That's 15 per cent more than the 48 billion they raised last year. In Washington the story is even worse.

I have been wracking my brain to find a new source of government revenue, knowing that if you leave it up to most office-holders they'll just come up with an increase in the old taxes, apparently believing that for example raising the sales tax a penny or so constitutes original thinking, or maybe cutting the property tax rate 2 per cent and raising property valuations 50 per cent is a new idea.

But I have actually found a new source of government revenue that won't cost the tax payers a cent. It's simple: charge all office-holders office rent.

You take a Congressman. He's now making $42,000 a year, plus free postage and free stationery, plus an allowance for travel and telephones, and pays nothing to heat or cool his office or to even have it cleaned up.

Surely he could pay a little office rent. You take say a lawyer and guarantee him $42,000 a year and he'd be delighted to pay his own office rent. He's doing it now, frequently on less. The same goes for most professions and businesses. I know there are some millionaires in Congress, but I know also there are a lot of Congressmen who're making more in Congress than they could out. Why couldn't they all pay some office rent?

Now I don't know how many office-holders there are throughout this country but it's a pretty good sized figure, and if they all paid office rent you can see the revenue would mount up.

Furthermore, since the people after all are the landlords, whenever office-holders raised their salaries, all we'd have to do to hold our own is raise their rent.

If you think this idea is sound, you promote it. I'm afraid to. I don't want Judge Wallace and President Nixon both mad at me.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

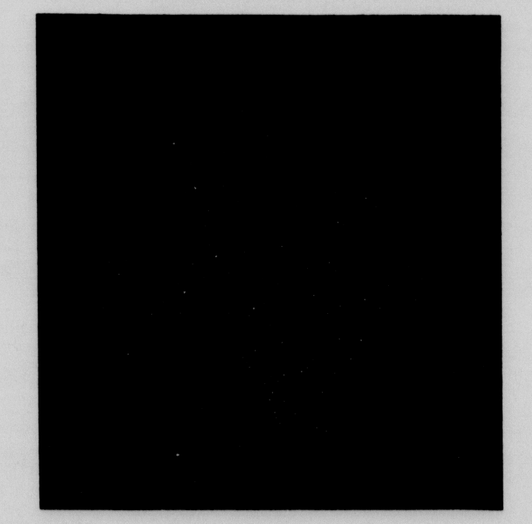
The stars still shine on Texas



In the beginning, the stars shone all over America.

Then something happened. As the air slowly got dirtier and dirtier, the day came when you couldn't see the stars.

First in Pittsburgh.
Then Los Angeles.
Then New York.
Then Detroit.
Then Cleveland.
But the stars still shine on Texas. Because Texas air is clean. And at Lone Star, we're doing our best to keep it clean.

One thing we're doing is supplying the cleanest burning fuel known to man. Pure natural gas.

And we've equipped 400 of our service trucks to run on liquified petroleum gas. (This means 97% less pollution than if these same trucks were running on gasoline.)

And we're going into factories and plants and working with manufacturers to develop incineration systems that will drastically reduce industrial pollution.

The stars still shine on Texas. Let's all work to keep the stars in the sky.

Hearings Under Way On New Pesticide Legislation

WASHINGTON, D.C.

Comprehensive hearings on pesticide legislation were launched Monday, February 22 by the House Committee on Agriculture.

Announcing the names of witnesses scheduled to appear first in the proceedings, Committee Chairman W. R. (Bob) Poage, D-Tex., said interest shown by the public in the hearings since they were first announced has necessitated the setting of additional open hearing dates starting March 1.

Officials of the newly established Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) were scheduled to testify first when the hearings got under way on Monday in the Committee hearing room.

On Tuesday, February 23 officials of the Department of Agriculture testified and on Wednesday, February 24 those scheduled to appear included spokesmen for the Food and Drug Administration, the Department of Interior and the State Department.

Specific legislation under consideration by the committee includes a bill (H. R. 4152) prepared by the Administration and introduced jointly by Chairman Poage and Rep. Page Belcher, R-Okla., ranking minority member of the committee.

Poage observed that while it had been introduced "by request" and did not necessarily reflect the views of those introducing it, the legislation did provide a vehicle for comprehensive hearings into the general subject of pesticides.

He also noted that under consideration would be his bill (H. R. 26) which would prohibit imports of foods from any country unless the President has determined that such country enforces anti-pesticide restrictions at least equal to those applicable here in the United States.

Other measures under study include H. R. 1077 by Rep. Ogken R. Reid, R-N.Y. concerning economic poisons, and H. R. 1722 by Rep. Richard White, D-Tex., concerning use of mercury in pesticides.

Chairman Poage, in calling the hearings, said:

"If indeed there is a health hazard involved in the use of a certain insecticide, or pesticide or rodenticide, we must learn what it is and what we can do about it.

"If farm production should be jeopardized by the prohibition of a certain compound, then we should know that and try to find a prohibition of a certain compound, then we should know that and try to find a substitute that will assure a continued supply of wholesome, nutritious food. If no substitutes are presently known, we should take action to encourage research to find substitutes."

PIONEER BRAND 848

It's PIONEER® again this year.

Here's why:

NELSON DAVIS, who farms near Sharp, averaged 3100 pounds of grain sorghum per acre last year from 500 acres of Pioneer brand 848. Like most farmers in the area, Mr. Davis reported that his crop had too much rain early and not enough later. He planted March 30 and harvested August 15. He likes the way 848 threshes and yields and plans to plant 500 acres again this spring. Naturally we are pleased that so many good farmers like Nelson Davis plant Pioneer brand hybrids year after year.

Wholesome Meat Act Registration

COLLEGE STATION

New federal meat inspection regulations that went into effect Dec. 1, 1970, require all transporters, brokers, wholesalers, and warehousemen to register with the U. S. Department of Agriculture by March 1, 1971.

This registration, which is a requirement of the Wholesome Meat Act, is geared to give the USDA a complete picture of the meat industry.

It will also allow them to act more quickly and more effectively in tracing uninspected or unwholesome meat back to its source, according to Dr. Ed Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist.

Each branch or subsidiary of a company must register separately. Any trade name different from the firm's name must also be listed.

Firms which process meat or slaughter animals for human consumption in interstate commerce need not register since they are already under federal inspection. Retail outlets are not required to register, noted the specialist.

The Wholesome Meat Act has already caused some changes in the Texas livestock industry, and many plants have moved into the Federal Meat Inspection category in the last three years, Dr. Uvacek said.

He added that a recent announcement by the USDA indicated that it would take over all meat inspection in the state in accordance with the Wholesome Meat Act.

As of Jan. 25, 1971, there were 30 states with certified meat inspection systems "at least equal to" the federal program.

RURAL HOUSING FUNDS

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin has announced that Farmers Home Administration rural housing program level has been increased to $1.47 billion for this year. Current mortgage market conditions enabled the Federal program to be increased without a net increase in budget costs, he said.

County Agent's Notes

Beef Field Day At McGregor

By J. D. Moore

On March 11, starting at 9:30 a.m. tours to special cattle displays will kick off the Beef Cattle field day at the Agricultural Research Center at McGregor.

Topics of interst and speakers include Dr. L. S. Pope, who will discuss "Consumers" Clients of the Beef Industry". Dr. O. D. Butler will discuss, "A New discovery to Make Beef Tender"; Dr. Tom Cartwright will discuss "Selection of Breeding Beef Cattle"; "New Breed Cross" will be discussed by Dr. Fitzhugh and Dr. Thomas will discuss the "desirable crossbred cow."

Lunch will be catered and a sale of surplus bulls and crossbred heifers will be held. County stockmen and others interested in the beef cattle industry are urged to mark their calendar for this event.

A copy of the days program is available at the county agents office.

COTTON MEETING

The county cotton production meeting will be held on the night of March 16, in Cameron. The location will be announced later.

Fred Elliott and his cotton team from A&M will present the program to explain chemical weed control, arsenic residue buildup from the use of arsenic acid as a defoliant in preparing cotton for harvest, insect control and farm machinery ideas related to cotton production.

Those interested in cotton production are urged to mark their calendar.

BIG MEETING

Frank Kratochvil, Calvin Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. Joe P. Mueck and J. D. Moore, county agent attended the B.I.G. meeting and the Farm Implement show held in Waco last week.

The major objective of the B. I. G. program is aimed at returning Texas Agriculture to its rightful position, not only in the blackland counties but throughout Texas, say B. I. G. officials.

GRAIN SORGHUM

That's what the 7th biennial Grain Sorghum Research and Utilization Conference is all about. It will be held March 2-4 at the KOKO Inn in Lubbock. There is something on the program for every person interested in the grain sorghum industry. It is sponsored by the Grain Sorghum Producers Association and Texas A&M and Texas Tech Universities.

MORE FARMERS ARE FERTILIZING THEIR PASTURES

The number of farmers fertilizing improved pastures continues to increase, says Neal Pratt, Extension agronomist, Texas A&M University.

Livestock producers are realizing more and more the importance of growing good-quality forage for increasing profits from pasture acreage and producing more meat and milk products.

Fertilizer offers several advantages for the livestock producer. First, it improves the quality of forage animals can graze. Second, it increases the yield or forage production from the same acreage.

One of the most obvious benefits is the effect of the fertilizer on rainfall utilization. One acre can produce three to five times more forage with adequate fertilization than when needed plant foods are not supplied.

Too, fertilized pastures are preferred by livestock over unfertilized pastures.

In recognizing the increased interest among farmers and ranchers in pasture fertilization, Pratt predicts considerably more acreage will be fertilized this year than last year provided the soil moisture situation improves.

FOOD EXPENDITURES

Consumer expenditures for food in 70's decade could go up by as much as 70%, including meals at home and away. This compares with 50% increase in the 1970's.

ASCS NEWS

By Douglas Buck

To facilitate advance market planning for upland cotton, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today Commodity Credit Corporation's upland cotton sales policy for the 1971-72 marketing year.

The 1971-72 program is based on authority contained in the Agricultural Act of 1970, and other existing legislation, and is designed to make CCC stocks of cotton available if needed to supplement regular carryover stocks and 1971-crop production.

The overall cotton program as announced for the 1971-72 marketing year is expected to improve the competitive position of U. S. cotton in both domestic and foreign markets.

Some bases and details of the policy announced today are listed as follows:

1. The 1970 Act provides that the sales price cannot be less than 110 percent of the loan rate for Middling 1-inch upland cotton (micronaire 3.5 through 4.9) adjusted for such current market differentials reflecting grade, quality, location, and other value factors determined appropriate plus reasonable carrying charges.

2. The 1971 loan level of 19.50 cents per pound basis Middling 1-inch cotton (micronaire 3.5 through 4.9), net weight, at average location, was established for upland cotton on Dec. 8, 1970.

3. Existing legislation also requires CCC to sell or make available for unrestricted use at current market prices in each marketing year a quantity of upland cotton equal to the "shortfall" (amount by which production is less than estimated requirements for domestic use and for export for the marketing year). The legislation further requires sales to be made in an orderly manner and so as not to affect market prices unduly.

Beginning August 1, 1971, upland cotton other than "shortfall" cotton will be offered for sale for unrestricted use on a competitive bid basis at not less than the higher of: (1) the market price for such cotton as determined by CCC, or (2) the 1971 loan rate for Middling 1-inch cotton (micronaire 3.5 - 4.9), net weight, at average location, adjusted for current market differentials applicable to other qualities as determined by CCC and location differentials applicable under the 1971 loan program, plus markups as follows:

August, September, October, and November 245 points per lb.; December 260, January 275, February 290, March 305, April 320, May, June, July 335.

The CCC minimum price for any quality of cotton, however, will not be less than the loan rate for that quality of cotton, plus 120 points.

The revised seasonal pattern of carrying charges, and uniform minimum prices for the first four months of the marketing year are intended to encourage buyers to make heavier purchases from producers during the harvesting period early in the marketing year.

Bell Co. Spokesman Says Senator's Report Incorrect

The accuracy of rate information presented earlier to a Texas Senate committee was challenged by a Southwestern Bell spokesman in Austin Monday as the committee continued hearings on the creation of a state utility commission.

Sam Holcomb, assistant vice president for Southwestern Bell, showed committee members a map on which every rate for leased line service -- as reported last week by Sen. Charles Wilson of Lufkin -- was incorrect.

Holcomb noted that one rate reported by the Senator was incorrect by more than $900 a month.

"I don't know how the figures on the Senator's chart were calculated, but they leave an incorrect impression," Holcomb said.

Wilson, and committee chairman William T. Moore of Bryan both have bills before the State Affairs committee which would provide statewide regulation of the telephone industry. The Wilson bill would regulate only telephone companies; the bill by Senator Moore would regulate all utilities.

Holcomb was one of several witnesses appearing Monday in opposition to both bills.

Earlier in his testimony, Holcomb maintained that rates for both local and long distance telephone service to Texas customers of Southwestern Bell compare favorably with rates in other states.

He also said that Texas rates not only compare favorably with those in other states, but that telephone service in the state generally "is not exceeded anywhere in the world."

"The various municipalities have done a good job of regulating the telephone industry," he maintained. "Why, then, should the taxpayers be burdened with the added expense of another regulatory agency."

Holcomb told the committee that one of the most often criticized features of long distance service -- the difference in rates for interstate and intrastate calls -- is not unique to Texas. Similar differences exist in states which have statewide regulatory agencies, he said.

To the charge that Texas has the "sorriest telephone service in the United States," Holcomb said, "This simply is not true."

He went on to point out that customers in Texas place more than 9.5 billion calls a year and a very high percentage of them are handled in a completely satisfactory manner.

Holcomb also challenged testimony offered last Monday that there were as many as 13 customers on rural telephone lines.

He said Southwestern Bell, one of 108 telephone companies in the state, had undertaken a rural improvement program several years ago, and at the close of 1970, some 75 per cent of the company's exchanges have been equipped for suburban four-party service.

To the charge that Southwestern Bell had an 8.9 per cent rate of return on its Texas operations, Holcomb said the cited figure represented the ratio of net operating revenues to average net plant, and was not related to a legal rate base in Texas.

Retirement Marriage Can Succeed, Survey Shows

Wonder what do to after retirement --- get married!

Senior citizens across the nation seem to agree with this philosophy, as the number of persons 65 and over who marry is increasing, reports Minnie Bell, Extension specialist in family life education at Texas A&M University.

A survey to discover how successful these retirement marriages are has been reported by Dr. Walter C. McKain, professor of rural sociology at the University of Connecticut. Dr. McKain reported six major factors listed in the studv.

The personality structure of the bride and groom is a crucial factor. Both should be well adjusted persons to expect success in marriage.

Being acquainted is also important. Brides and grooms, then, should know each other well.

If the marriage is approved by children and friends, the chances of success are increased.

Older persons who easily have adjusted to the various disengagements occurring in life usually experience success in marriage. It doesn't matter whether the disengagements are personal choices or are forced by societv.

Home ownership is a fifth factor. If both partners had homes before they married, adjustment was the norm.

Income is the sixth factor. The couple should marry as financial equals.

Pork Continues As Popular Food

By Christine Laws

The word "hog" is peculiarly American. One dictionary of "Americanisms" says that the word "hog" in the United States almost exclusively took the place of the English "swine".

In fact, "mean enough to steal acorns from a hog" is the Yankee extremity of meanness.

The hardy hogs of the early colonists were well-adjusted animals, taking easily to pioneer life. In the settlements near the coast, they fed on clams and other shellfish. In the woods they found an abundant supply of acorns and other nuts. They thrived so well that, as villages and towns grew larger, stray hogs became somewhat of a problem.

A civic position under the title of "hog-reeve" was created in New England. It was the hog-reeve's duty to catch any hogs running at large and put them in the pound. In Maryland, the phrase "hog-tight and horse-high" described fences built to keep out trespassing livestock.

In spite of these minors difficulties, the hog was an essential part of the farm scene. By 1800, every farmer was raising hogs and fattening them for market, as well as for use by his own family.

Just as hogs are among our most popular farm animals, pork meat is one of our traditional food items. Pork production has been heavy this winter, with supplies up as much as 20 percent over a year ago. Pork is now included on the plentiful foods list.

Appearance of pork serves as an important guide to quality. Choose meat, either fresh or cured, that has a high proportion of lean to fat and bone. The flesh should be firm and fine-textured. Color of the lean in fresh pork may range from grayish pink to red. Lean cured pork has a typical deep pink color.

The family will love these Barbecued Spareribs.

To serve six, use 3 pounds of spareribs. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Place spareribs on a rack in a shallow baking pan. Roast 1 1/2 hours or until tender. Remove the rack from the baking pan. Remove excess fat from pan.

BARBECUE SAUCE

1/3 cup onion, chopped
2 tbsp. green pepper, chopped
1/4 cup celery, chopped
1 tbsp. fat or oil
1 tbsp. sugar
1 tbsp. vinegar
1 tbsp. lemon juice
1/2 cup catsup
1/2 tsp. dry mustard
1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1/4 cup water

Cook onion, green pepper and celery in the fat in a small pan about five minutes, or until lightly browned. Add remaining ingredients. Simmer sauce 10 minutes.

Pour sauce over the cooked meat. Then return to oven and bake, uncovered, for 30 minutes.

HAM AND POTATO CAKES

3 cups ground cooked ham or shoulder
3 cups mashed potatoes
3 tbsp. chopped parsley
Salt to taste

Mix the meat, mashed potatoes and parsley, and season to taste with salt. Mold into flat cakes and fry in hot fat until brown.

JUICY GRAPEFRUIT HALVES

Juicy halves of grapefruit are a favorite breakfast eye-opener for most of us. An added plus--- grapefruit is also a good source of vitamin C. You'll find especially good supplies of grapefruit at the market now. In selecting, remember that good grapefruit are firm, well-shaped and heavy for their size. Heavy fruit usually are thin skinned, which indicates they are juicy.

Thick skinned and puff grapefruit usually are less juicy. A slightly pointed stem end on a grapefruit indicates thick skin. A russet or bronze color on the outer skin of grapefruit is no indication of internal quality.

If you haven't tried Broiled Grapefruit, you'll be surprised at how the heat mellows the flavor. It's easy to prepare, too. Just sprinkle each grapefruit half with sugar and a dash of spice -- cinnamon, mace or nutmeg. Then dot with bits of table fat and broil 10 to 15 minutes with direct heat, on the broiler rack set 3 to 4 inches from the heat.

When the grapefruit halves are just slightly browned and heated through, serve them hot. You may also want to try baking the grapefruit halves for 15 minutes in an oven set at 400 degrees.

Tips From Tippit

By Floyd Tippit, SES

Do traffic signs and signals occasionally cramp your style? When you take the wheel, do you feel free and easy and unrestrained? Do your years of driving experience give you sense of freedom and driving ease?

Well, unless you pay close attention to those roadside signs and signals, you may suffer a permanent cramp in your style and health.

No one likes to be regulated; that's just human nature. Nevertheless, a driver's life depends on highway signs and signals.

These signs and signals are designed to help rather than hinder. They expedite the flow of traffic with safety. Without them, our highways would be a deadly confusion.

So, if you're inclined to resent traffic signs and signals, stop and think what driving would be like without them. And since you can't get along without them, learn all you can about their meaning and operation. The result will be a better driving record.

This is just a picture of your State Farm family insurance man.

Here is my watch. If it is to be of value to me, it has to be a watch I can count on. When I look at its face, I must know beyond doubt, that it can be trusted. If I have to be forever checking it, it is of little use to me, and certainly it is not fulfilling the purpose for which it was created. Life too, is that way! If a man is to be of value, he must be the kind of person that can be counted on. His face must radiate dependability. If those who live about you have to be forever checking on you . . . you are not fulfilling the purpose for which God created you. Now, Paul said, "those things, which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, do; and the God of peace shall be with you." Help us to attend church worship every week and to draw near to Thee. May we gather in thoughts that stray and control feelings that may be troublesome. For sin give repentance, for sorrow give trust, for strife of passion and care grant rest. Through this timepiece illustration, may we be led to bring our lives to Thee, that we may test and measure them by thine unerring law.

Brashear Averages 18.2

Yoe Varsity Finishes 15-12 Season

The basketball Yoemen finished third in two tournaments in a 15-12 season, a good year when need for height still plagued head coach Ron Murdock.

Senior Robert Brashear came through with an 18.2 average in the 27-game season, followed by senior Jerry Richardson with 9.7, and sophomore find Will Turner with a part-season average of 7.9.

Guards Dean Prokisch and Ken McLerran averaged 7.3 and 7.2 points during the season and center Richard Johnson averaged 5.3 points for the season.

Round Rock evened the score in 20AA by topping the Yoemen twice in 20AA district play, winning the district title as the Yoemen did a year ago.

The Yoemen averaged 54.3 points per game to their opponents average of 51.6.

Whatever magic Murdock and his club in 1969-70 developed in the last part of previous season worked only spasmodically in the 70-71 outing. Lack of height played havoc against several good clubs this year where rebounding meant ball control.

The Yoemen put together a four-game winning streak in Februrary in consecutive wins over 20AA opponents Georgetown, Elgin, Caldwell and Westlake. But Round Rock won the final district game to break the drive, 73-49.

Rounding out the varsity roster during the year were: Mike Zajicek, Mike Zelisko, Harry Perrin, Jim Bailey, Ron Gilbert and Sam Knight.

Brashear made all-tourney in the LaVega tournament while the Yoemen finished third there and at Taylor.

The Yoeman junior varsity was building this year behind a taller lineup than the varsity, but not as good a scoring club as the 17-4 freshmen.

The Yoe season went:

3 In Double Figures

Frosh Win 17 of 21 Games

Tne Yoe freshman basketball squad may have a season won-lost record with a 17-4 season or 81 percent on the hardwood.

Coach Ernie Laurence holds up the record when people talk basketball. And it is a record this crew led by scorers David Hollas, Rock Thweatt and John Barron will live with all through three more years of high school basketball.

Head coach Ron Murdock must look forward to these youngsters moving to junior varsity and varsity roles in the next two years.

The freshmen this season had height and a good eye when it counted. Average scores grew progressively higher as the season progressed.

Only one club took the Yoe frosh's measure easily. And that was a 6-foot-average club which ran like a varsity winner in a 79-53 troucning of the Yoe freshmen.

Taylor freshmen won twice over the Yoe, 41-35 and 39-36, neither win decisive runaways.

And the frosh handed a one-point defeat to the Yoe Junior Varsity at season's end, 44-43, to give an indication of what is in store for basketball fans in the Milam area in the next three years.

Barron averaged 10.3 points, but frequently hit 20 points or more, despite an ankle injury. Hollas was steady point getter and team scoring leader with a 11.6 average while Thweatt dropped key points through the year for a 9.75 average.

With two years of experience and a good head, these averages could double for all three boys, basketball observers note.

Rounding out the 17-4 club are: Craig Friemel, Sammie Ellison, Ricky Williams, Marvin Parker, George Whiteside, Ricky Sapp and Hill Culpepper.

Hollas netted 232 points and Barron 206, followed by Thweatt's 195.

To settle the question of which were the superior musicians, harpists or vocalists, a Welsh prince in the sixth century offered a prize to contestants who could swim the Conway River and then compete. The harpists were unable to play when their strings became wet, and the singers won.

Mark Twain's Story

OF THE

READING SPIDER

During Mark Twain's days as a newspaperman, he was editor of a small Missouri newspaper.

One day he got a letter from a subscriber, stating that he had found a a spider in his newspaper and asked if this was an omen of good luck or bad luck.

Twain wrote: "Finding a spider in your newspaper is neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

You will find no spider webs across the doors of the merchants who advertise in your local paper.

Lack Of Funds Will Slow Flood Prevention Projects

Upstream flood prevention projects will be affected by the President's budget, Cong. W. R. Poage reported this week. He said work has been started over the years on 1,030 of these projects.

Each project was approved by Congress before work was begun and about 800 of the projects are still in the construction stage, Poage said.

"There are normally more than 100 new applications per year which secure approval," he added. "The average cost of these projects has greatly increased but the funds available have increased very little. This means we cannot build as many projects."

The President's budget proposes 70 million dollars for the projects next fiscal year.

"That will mean that the projects now underway must all be slowed down very materially and that only a part of the present pending projects can be started," Poage said.

He said the House Agriculture Committee is going to include consideration of flood prevention projects in its general study of rural development.

"There are very few improvements which can mean more to rural development than the prevention of upstream floods," he continued. "Not only must we prevent these floods if we are to hope for any substantial community development, but very few programs have contributed as much as this one to the maintenance of our environment and ecology."

Lions Hear CISD Supt.

D. R. Dodson, superintendent of Cameron Schools, told Cameron Noon Lions that a combination auditorium - cafeteria was the most pressing physical need in the Cameron schools.

Dodson, introduced by John Schigut, program chairman, told his audience that the addition next year of 97 students from St. Anthony Catholic School will put a strain on already crowded conditions in the cafeterias on the Yoe campus. He suggested a combination auditorium - cafeteria to serve the Yoe campus.

Dodson said the need to convert the High School auditorium to classrooms and a library had left only the Ben Milam Cafetorium for class plays and special assemblies.

Dodson also discussed the petition for annexation by a section of the Milano School District which is awaiting action by the County School Board.

TIC Names New Officers

AUSTIN

The Texas Industrial Comission has announced election of Warren Woodward of Dallas vice-chairman and Truett Smith of Wylie secretary - treasurer. Chester Wine of Corpus Christi continues as chairman.

The action came during the regular quarterly meeting of the Commission.

Woodward moves up from secretary - treasruer to the vice chairmanship, succeeding Claude Brown of McCamey. Smith's election to secretary - treasurer is to fill a void left by the elevation of Woodward.

MODE APPOINTED TO WEST POINT - LaGrange High School senior John Mode, son of Dr. and Mrs. Gerald Mode of LaGrange, has been selected for appointment to the US Military Academy at West Point. Shown reading the telegram from U. S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen notifying Mode of his appointment are school Counselor M. C. Schmidt, right, and Ray Cornes, director of instruction. Dr. Mode is a native of Cameron.

Tax Plan Would Burden Consumer, Says Sen. Watson

State Sen. Murray Watson expressed doubts that the "strictly consumer - oriented tax plan" offered by Gov. Preston Smith can pass the Senate.

Commenting on the Governor's proposals in his Feb. 18 news report, Sen. Watson listed: raising the general sales tax to 4 percent; increasing tax rate on sale of motor vehicles from 3 to 4 percent; and increasing tuition for state-supported colleges and universities.

"I was disappointed by the governor's tax message," Watson said. "None of us like taxes, but we must levy taxes if we are to maintain our government and provide for our aged, the blind, for dependent children;

"We must levy taxes if we are going to provide education for our citizens, good highways, clean air and water, and a healthful environment. . ."

Sen. Watson said the final tax bill "will have to be balanced between business and consumer taxes if it is to receive favorable consideration.

"Neither do I feel we should tax our students to balance our budget," he continued. "I do not oppose a reasonable increase in tuition, but I think any increase should have specific provisions for student tuition loans and grants so as to guarantee that no one will be denied an opportunity for a good education."

Texas Exes Will Hear Rep. Parker

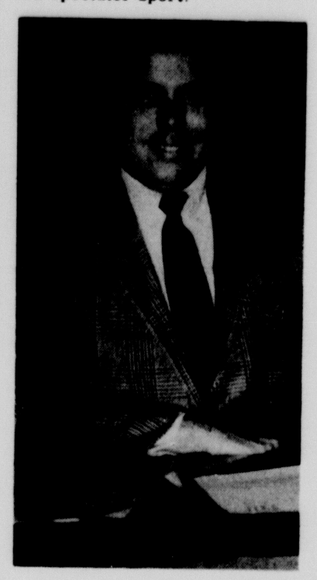
State Rep. Carl A. Parker of Port Arthur will be guest speaker at the Milam County Ex-students of the University of Texas Association dinner Tuesday, March 2.

The dinner will start at 7 p.m. at the Rockdale Country Club.

Rep. Parker will speak on "Why football is not the greatest spectator sport."



REP. CARL PARKER

A native of Port Arthur, Rep. Parker received his BA degree in government and economics from the University of Texas in 1956, and graduated from the UT law school in 1958.

Parker is now serving his fifth term as Representative for Jefferson County.

Gunter Files For Post On RISD Board

C. O. Gunter, president of the Rogers ISD board of trustees since April, 1961, has filed for reelection in the April 3 Rogers trustee election.

Gunter has served continuously on the Rogers school board since April 1952 with the exception of one year when he did not run for reelection. He came back on the board in 1959.

Randolph Green has filed for reelection and Daniel Lesikar has filed for reelection to the unexpired term of Edwin Psencik. It will run for one year beginning in April. D. D. Ward has not filed for reelection.

Waialeale, a peak on Hawaii's Kauai, has had as much as 52 feet of rain in a single year and claims the title of wettest place on earth, the National Geographic Society says.

IRS Questions

Q - I need more tax forms. Where can I get them?

A - Any local IRS office should have the forms you need. Many banks and post offices also stock the most frequently used forms.

To avoid processing and refund delays, don't forget to take the name label off the cover of your 1040 tax package and put it on the Form 1040 you file.

Q - Will any IRS office compute my tax for me?

A - No, the tax computation is done at the IRS regional service center where the returns are processed. If you wish to have the IRS compute your tax, complete all the appropriate lines on your return and then mail it to IRS as you have in the past. Be sure to attach all necessary schedules. Only those who have $20,000 or less income consisting of salaries, wages, dividends, interest, pension or annuities and claim the standard deduction, qualify to have IRS compute their tax. If you meet these requirements and are entitled to a retirement income credit, follow the instructions at the top of Schedule R, attach it to your return, and the credit will be computed by IRS.

Q - I'm taking care of my mother's tax return this year. What special benefits is she entitled to by being 65?

A - The tax benefits for older Americans are explained in a free booklet by that name which is available free at IRS offices. Ask for Publication 554.

Q - I was out of work several months last year and received unemployment benefits. Do I have to include them with the rest of my income?

A - No, unemployment benefits are not taxable and do not have to be reported.

Q - My son now buys most of his clothes with what he makes on his after school job. Will this cause any change in his dependency status?

A - If you are referring to the support test, the fact your sons buys his own clothes will probably not disqualify him. Included in support are food, lodging, medical and educational expenses as well as clothing. If your provide more than half the cost of these items, your son will still qualify as your dependent under the support test.

Q - Which of my home expenses can I deduct?

A - Homeowners may deduct the real estate taxes paid on their property and the interest portion of mortgage payments. Utility costs, repair and maintenance expenses are not deductible.

Improvements to a home or property are considered capital expenditures and may be added to the property's basis.

Q - I got a statement from my bank showing how much my savings account earned last year. Should I send it in with my 1040?

A - No, the statement is only for your records. The bank has also sent the IRS a copy.

If your total interest income in 1970 was under $100 just enter it on line 14 of your Form 1040. If it was over $100, itemize using Schedule B and enter the total on line 14.

Q - My husband and I work and we pay a neighbor to take care of our children after school. Can we deduct this?

A - It may qualify as a child care expense which is deductible under certain conditions. The amount of the deduction is a maximum of $600 for one dependent, or $900 for two or more dependents.

This deduction is explained on Pages 8 and 9 of the Form 1040 instructions. If you qualify, don't forget to complete Form 2441 and send it in with your Form 1040

Q - I report tips to my employer but I don't see them entered separately on my W-2. Should I add the tips to the amount of my wages shown?

A No, if you reported tip income to your employer he has included them with your other wages. Therefore, you should not enter tips as a separate item.

Only if tip income has not been reported to your employer should it be added to your wages and salaries.

Q - Who can file as head of household?

A - Several types of taxpayers may qualify for the special head of household tax rates. They include taxpayers who maintain a household for someone else, widows and widowers, and married persons living apart.

Details on who qualifies as a head of household are given on Page 4 of the 1040 instructions.

Our Darling Mother and Daddy

In memory of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Craddock

Ones so precious to our hearts, is gone
The voice we loved to hear is stilled,
The place made vacant in our homes can never more be filled.
The loving and tender hands are clasped
We have kissed your marble brows,
In our saddened hearts, we know
Our darling Parents is in heaven now.
There was an Angel band in heaven
Which was not quite complete,
So God took our darling Mother and Daddy
To fill the vacant seats.
Through pain and pleasure
They smiled a smile of heaven,
When they were called to their heavenly home
They smiled fair well to earth.
We hope to meet Mother and Daddy
When our lives on earth is finished,
And in heaven with job to great
And in heaven with joy to greet them
On earth our farewell tears were shed.
Dearest loved ones we have laid thee
In your peaceful graves embrace,
Precious sweet memories will be cherished,
Until we see your heavely faces.
We miss the kind and willing hands
The precious sweet smiles and care,
Our homes are dank, without you dears
We so very - very much miss you now.

Your children and grandchildren

Sharp-Tracy-Friendship

By Mrs. Leroy Guillote

Water, in more ways than one is a big problem in our area. It seems the Tracy folks are on the very end of the water districts, the one from Rogers and the Southwest Milam County Supply Corp. The best bet at the moment seems to put your name in both corporations, and hope that either one of them will come to Tracy.

Rain did fall, from one half inch to over an inch. The norther that blew in Sunday morning had a little mist up to three-tenths of rain, and left behind some wind damage. Our storm door exploded in a million pieces of glass. Neighbors reported tin torn loose and tree limbs blown down.

Billy Walker was buried Saturday evening in the Friendship Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Pope of Alice were guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Walker. They attended Walker's funera.

Mrs. Minnie Lee Collier's cousin, Gean Massey of Moody was buried Saturday. Mrs. Collier went to the services.

Mrs. Rome Shelton has returned home, after staying briefly in the Manor Rest Home in Temple. Mrs. Frank Liles and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Pope visited Mrs. Shelton.

Mr. Jim Bales daughter, Mrs. Naomi Walker of Rockdale and Mrs. Walter Bales of Belton visited him. Mrs. Bales also spent a while with Mr. J. W. Pope.

Mr. Curtis Rhodes of Temple spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Alice Rhodes.

Mr. Bud Rhodes of Baytown visited with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pope Saturday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes went to the Walker services.

Mrs. Vera Hodges was the guest of Mrs. W. H. Walker.

We are glad to know that Mitchell, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Echols, is now trying out his crutches. He fell from a tree house, built about 30 feet up in a pine tree, and broke his pelvis. His grandmother, Mrs. Echols, is suffering from a broken toe from an accident at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrell Hans and family of Austin spent Saturday with the Lawrences.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Roesler spent Sunday afternoon in Rockdale with Mrs. Roesler's mother, Mrs. Ben Kraatz.

We are very proud of our daughter-in-law, Carol, Jerry's wife, who has made the dean's list with a 3.47, at Mercers College in Trenton, New Jersey.

Charles arrived in Puerto Rico Tuesday night, to be stationed in San Juan for two years. He and Harry applied for brother duty and actually got it. They are with navy communications.

REDI-CASH

PAYS IN ADDITION TO MEDICARE OR ANY OTHER INSURANCE
WE PAY YOU $100 A WEEK UP TO $15,000!
OR $200.00 A WEEK UP TO $30,000.

Q. What Does REDI-CASH do for me?

A. A new insurance policy that pays $100.00 a week up to 150 weeks ($15,000 total) direct to you when you are in the hospital.

Q. How long will I be paid?

A. For up to 150 weeks or $15,000.

Q. I have other health insurance, will REDI-CASH still pay me?

A. Yes! REDI-CASH pays you no matter what other policies you may have.

Q. I have Medicare, will REDI-CASH still pay?

A. Definitely! REDI-CASH pays in addition to Medicare and can be used for the many items not covered by Medicare.

Q. Why REDI-CASH when I have other hospitalization insurance?

A. REDI-CASH pays tax-free money direct to you, which you can use as you require. REDI-CASH can pay for hospital items not covered by the average hospitalization policy.

Q. Will I need a physical examination?

A. No, this is not required.

GUARANTEED RENEWABLE

Q. Can my policy be cancelled by you?

A. No. Never. No matter how many claims you make or how many times you collect, we can never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons—as long as you live.

Q. Can my policy be cancelled by me?

A. Yes. You can drop your policy on any renewal date.

Q. When does my REDI-CASH Policy go in force?

A. On the date your application is received in our office. Accidents are covered on that day. After 30 days in force, the policy covers you for sicknesses.

Q. May I have more than one REDI-CASH Policy?

A. We are forced to limit the number each person may have to two policies.

Q. Does REDI-CASH pay in any hospital?

A. You are paid when hospitalized in any recognized public or private hospital except nursing homes and government or veterans hospitals.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

Q. Do I have to use the REDI-CASH money only for hospital bills?

A. No. This $100.00 tax-free money is paid direcly to you for use as you require.

Q. What about recurring health problems?

A. After your policy has been continuously in force for two years, even pre-existing conditions are covered by REDI-CASH.

Q. What is NOT covered in my Policy?

A. Hospitalization for nearly every imaginable sickness and accident is covered except hospitalization caused by mental and nervous disorders, or when confined in a government or veterans hospital. Any heart or circulatory disease or sickness requiring a surgical operation is fully covered if the condition originates after the policy has been in force for six months.

Q. When does REDI-CASH Policy become effective?

A. On the date your application is accepted in our office and the Policy is issued to you.

Q. Will my rate change if I have a lot of claims?

A. No. These low, low rates will never change unless an equal adjustment is made to every one in your state having this plan.

Q. Will my benefits be reduced when I get older?

A. No. Never! Regardless of age—everyone paying adult rates gets the same benefits.

Q. Will my claims be handled quickly, problem free?

A. Yes! When you get your policy you will receive a simple, easy-to-use Claim Notice even a child can prepare. Your claims will be processed quickly and your checks sent directly to you.

Q. Can I save by paying in advance?

A. Yes, almost 10 per cent. If you pay 11 times your monthly premium, you will receive credit for one full year.
